

Section eight
Acknowledgments

We would like to acknowledge the significant commitment and contribution made throughout the two years of the programme by the Directors of Children's Services and all those from the participating local authorities with their Children's Trust partners. The support provided by the Government Offices for the Regions, through the Directors of Children and Learning and Children's Services Advisers, as well as those staff who helped with practical arrangements, has also been important.

This Final Guidance Year 2 could not have been completed without the active support and contribution of a significant number of organisations and individuals who contributed to the roundtable events held to test the leadership and governance self assessment templates. These include eight local Children's Trusts, a number of voluntary sector organisations and several elected members from the LGA's Children and Young People's Board and participating authorities. We are also grateful to the NCSL Leadership Network, 88 network groups, who tested the leadership self evaluation template, and applied it to a range of projects over the year.

We would like to thank the Year Two Reference Group, for the support and challenge as well as wisdom they provided to the work on governance and leadership;

Caroline Abrahams – formerly Local Government Association
Jasmine Ali – Children's Services Network
Mike Collins – National Council for School Leadership
Rachel Davies – DCSF

Hilary Emery – Training and Development Agency for Schools
Clive Miller – Office for Public Management
Deirdre Quill – Children's Workforce Development Council
Sonia Sodha – IPPR/DEMOS
Kathy Turner – Audit Commission
Juliet Winstanley – Ofsted

Particular thanks go to the NtG core team over the part two years:
